Using MACI Resources at the University of Calgary: Fall Training Opportunities

Orientation to the Alpha Cluster

Thursday, September 21, 10 am - 11 am

Cyberport, 5th Floor Biosciences, University of Calgary

This hour-long session will focus on how graduate students and faculty can use and access the Compaq Alpha Cluster – a high performance computing resource at the University of Calgary. Users who want hands-on experience or potential users who would like to discuss their computational needs are welcome to stay afterwards for in-depth discussions with MACI technical support personnel.

Orientation to MACI Multimedia Resources at the University of Calgary

Thursday, September 21, 1 pm - 3 pm

Every spring and fall, MACI offers a series of general orientations, and specialized training, for graduate students and faculty at the University of Calgary and University of Alberta. For more information about MACI training, contact Janelle Ring at 220-2012 or ring@netera.ca.
